

“I always like to look on the optimistic side of life, but I’m realistic enough to know that life is a complex matter.”

WALT DISNEY

American Film Producer, Director, Screenwriter, Voice Actor, Animator, Innovator in Theme Park Design, and Philanthropist

Created and Produced Animated Pictures with Characters such as Mickey Mouse,
Donald Duck, Goofy, and Pluto

(DECEMBER 5, 1901–DECEMBER 15, 1966)

Size Does Matter

The huge size of Jupiter is your hot tip to understanding Sagittarius. You do everything in a big way. You’re a big spender, and you’re very generous to others. You’re always contemplating big ideas and dreaming up big schemes. You love money, and you constantly look for ways to get rich quick. Incidentally, the reason you want this money isn’t just for the money itself. For you, money is your ticket to ride!

The expansive quality of Jupiter represents your desire for freedom. You are always pushing outwards — pushing the boundaries in your life. You cannot be held back or shackled. That would break you. For you, personal freedom is a survival issue.

Your need to expand your world began when you were a little child trying to go as far as you could, literally and figuratively. You often wandered away from home because you knew there was a big, exciting world out there waiting to be discovered!

She’s Got a Ticket to Ride . . .

You are the globetrotter of the zodiac. You were born with wanderlust in your blood. You mention the word “travel” to any astrologer and they will immediately reply, “Sagittarius!”

Other signs take trips. They book five days in Vegas, or a week in Paris and a week in Rome. But you pack your bags and go to Asia, or Europe, or North America. You travel for the spring, or the winter, or the whole year. You’re like a rolling tumbleweed seeking adventure and knowledge.

Like your ruler, Jupiter, you want to expand your experience of life. You intend to grow beyond your little test tube. You want more. You have always wanted more, because it’s out there!

But lo! There is another reason you love to travel. You want to stay fresh. You want to see new places, new faces, new cities, and new cultures because it makes you feel alive and alert! You have a horror of slipping into a somnolent ennui where you no longer “see” your surroundings.