

2006 – 2010

Now you entered a powerful time in your life when you could see what was working, and what was not working. In 2006, lucky Jupiter was in your sign, pumping your confidence and giving you the strength to let go of what was no longer relevant in your life. “I can do this!”

At the same time, many of you felt extremely proud of your achievements. This was a time of graduation, promotion, success, and adulation. Something confirmed to you who you really were and what you could do.

Soon, this success led to increased earnings, especially in 2007. Things were looking great! In 2008, your optimism grew and your popularity was such that your challenge was learning how to work with groups and relate to others and yet, at the same time, not lose your own personal independence and integrity. Not always easy to achieve.

Something began to enrich your home scene around 2009. This was an excellent time to buy real estate or invest in real estate. Some of you bought treats for your home so that you felt richer and more fortunate. You were also able to treat family members. This was a happy time in your personal life and your family dynamic. Some of you expanded your family at this time through marriage, birth, adoption, or the whole fam-damily moving in! Oy vey.

This could be why you took a vacation, because it was a great time to travel. It was also a good time to explore the arts, enjoy success in sports, and reap the rewards of all kinds of creative outlets, be they writing, acting, photography, working in show business, or anything to do with the hospitality industry.

This was also a fabulous time for love and romance! Many of you were really cozy with the love of your life.
